

General Physician – Internal Medicine

Private Practice Opportunity – Toowoomba, QUEENSLAND St Andrew's Toowoomba Hospital

An exciting opportunity exists for a General Physician to establish a busy private practice in Australia's second largest inland city, only 90 minutes from Brisbane and host to a large referral base of over 300,000 people.

The position will provide professional satisfaction by offering a broad range of referrals with the scope to meet your specialty interest. There is also mentoring opportunities with medical students as St Andrew's Hospital is a teaching hospital for the University of Queensland.

St Andrew's Toowoomba Hospital is a 137 bed acute care private hospital with a comprehensive range of acute medical and surgical services, allied health and onsite diagnostic services. A large onsite medical centre provides significant referral base from General Practitioners. The hospital is modern and well equipped and has a very high satisfaction rating with patients and doctors.

Toowoomba offers a green change with a high standard of living, whilst being very close to a major metropolitan centre. Enjoy the best of both worlds in a beautiful city with a strong social and cultural element, affordable housing and a high standard of primary, secondary and tertiary education facilities.

St Andrew's Toowoomba Hospital will take care of your needs as you establish yourself seamlessly into private practice. Attractive package and relocation assistance is available as well as support with setting up your private practice into quality medical suites and marketing your practice to the community.
